Conducting a brainstorm

Executing a brainstorm isn't unique; holding a productive brainstorm is. Great brainstorms are ones that set the stage for fresh and generative thinking through simple guidelines and an open and collaborative environment. Use this when you're just kicking-off a new project and want to hit the ground running with big ideas that will move your team forward.

Before you collaborate

A little bit of preparation goes a long way with this session. Here's what you need to do to get going.

🕒 15 minutes

Choose your best "How Might We" Questions

Create 5 HMW statements before the activity to propose them to the team.

Set the stage for creativity and inclusivity

Go over the brainstorming rules and keep them in front of your team while brainstorming to encourage collaboration, optimism, and creativity.

1. Encourage wild ideas (If none of the ideas sound a bit ridiculous, then you are filtering yourself too much.)
2. Defer judgement (This can be as direct as harsh words or as subtle as a condescending tone or talking over one another.)
3. Build on the ideas of others ("I want to build on that idea" or the use of "yes, and...")
4. Stay focused on the topic at hand
5. Have one conversation at a time
6. Be visual (Draw and/or upload to show ideas, whenever possible.)
7. Go for quantity

Prioritize

Your team should all be on the same page about what's important moving forward. Place your ideas on this grid to determine which ideas are important and which are feasible.

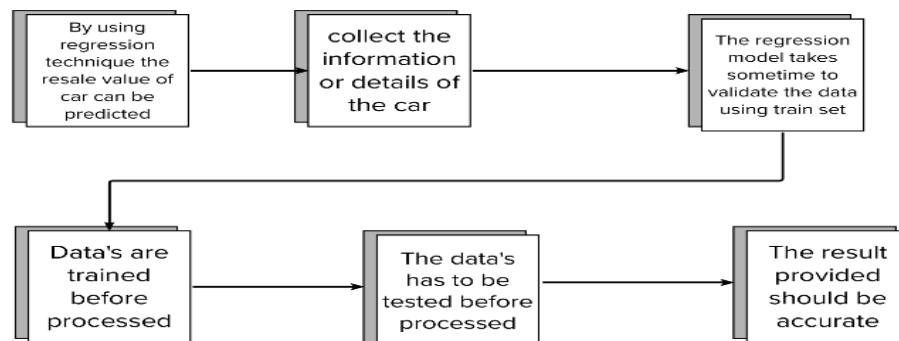

4

Brainstorm as a group

Have everyone move their ideas into the "group sharing space" within the template and have the team silently read through them. As a team, sort and group them by thematic topics or similarities. Discuss and answer any questions that arise. Encourage "Yes, and..." and build on the ideas of other people along the way.
